I AM NYCLA

A Member Feature Spotlight

Ankit Kapoor

I'm an associate with Cohen Rabin Stine Schumann LLP, a matrimonial firm in midtown, and a recent Brooklyn Law School graduate.

I'm also a former NYPD police officer. Martha Cohen Stine is a partner at the firm and she became one of my mentors. Ms. Stine is the Chair of the Matrimonial Law Section, and she immediately urged me to join NYCLA and become involved, explaining that its open and welcoming environment had much to offer to a young lawyer, including leadership opportunities. I assisted with the presentation of In-Committee CLEs, held at our offices, where we discussed pressing legal issues of the day. I had an opportunity to meet and brainstorm not only with other practitioners in my field, but with the judges who were our speakers. During the year, I started attending events at NYCLA and elsewhere. I met Federal and State Court judges and lawyers from small and large firms. Members from other fields have suggested my name to potential clients.

NYCLA is giving me an opportunity to build professional relationships, bond with colleagues and get my name out there, and grow, both professionally and personally.

Who is Next?

Our first NYCLA Member Spotlight is Ankit Kapoor, an associate with Cohen Rabin Stine Schumann LLP.

Now we'd like to hear from you! Take a moment to send a 50-75 word summary or a 1-2 minute cell video detailing why you joined the New York County Lawyers Association and any unique opportunities your membership has garnered to acutts@nycla.org. The top responses will be featured on our social media platforms and here in the #NYCLANews.

Share Your Legal Opinion

NYCLA wants to share your voice and thought leadership with your peers & colleagues. Is there a recent legal opinion or a decision of the Court that you have comprehensive knowledge of & you want to further the discussion or offer your legal perspective? Please submit your 300-500 word blog post to acutts@nycla.org for review/approval* & you might just be featured in the NYCLA Blog & across NYCLA's social media platforms.

*All blog submissions are reviewed for approval before being accepted as entries into the NYCLA Blog.
